

An Invitation

The Georgetown and Scott County Museum

The Georgetown and Scott County Museum is exceptional because it is the only museum exclusively planned for Scott County. There are, of course, other outstanding museums in Kentucky, but this one is Scott County's. Nowhere else can one visit so beautiful a building and spend an hour or two reveling in the glories of not only the history, but the natural beauty and culture of this cornerstone Bluegrass County.

The building, Old Post Office, listed in the National Register of Historic Places, displays a collection that the director of the Kentucky Humanities Council calls "outstanding", and, indeed it is. A visit to the museum will prove this.

Join or renew your membership in the "Friends of the Museum" and you will receive the following:

- * A membership card*
- * A newsletter telling of museum events, exhibits and Scott County History.*
- * An invitation to the annual "Friends of the Museum" dinner.*
- * Advance notice of all events and a special invitation to exhibit openings*
